Design and Practice Exchange: Navigating the (Post) Pandemic Terrain

Walking Tour: Women-Designed Projects

November 20, 2021

To celebrate women's contributions to the New York City built environment, the Design & Practice Exchange will host a walking tour, during which participants will explore some of New York City's most notable structures. Tour participants will start at the MoMA, explore the newly renovated Stavros Niarchos Foundation Library, head across town to Hudson Yards, and walk down the High Line to end at the Chelsea Arts District. The tour guides, all women architects who have shaped the city's architectural landscape, will highlight their achievements and lessons learned.
